

It is important for Australia to play a leading role in the international development of AI

...[and] in the international governance and regulation of AI

